"Dreams begin where rainbows end" provided the perfect setting for Homecoming Weekend. Spirit was high among the Mariners as they presented class skits, cheered at the pep rally, and competed against each other to make the best float for the parade. All week, Mariners waited anxiously to find out who would be the 1983-84 Homecoming Queen. When the Mariners reached Todd Stadium, the anticipation grew to even a higher level. Finally, at half-time, the court was presented. It consisted of one freshman, Karren Langen;

two sophomores, Alexis Canavos and Pam Mayo; three juniors, Jenny Birmingham, Pam Williams, and Yvonne Burns; and four seniors, Dora Banks, Nan Carney, Darlene Carney, and Yvonne Youngblood. Yvonne, escorted by senior Chris Warren, was crowned Homecoming Queen. Yvonne's dream came true, as did many others. The Homecoming Dance was held Saturday night from eight o'clock until midnight. Old and new Mariners gathered together to dance the night away to music provided by deejay David Long.

Many new trends were seen throughout Ferguson this year. New Wave or "punk" fashions were major trends consisting of a variety of accessories. Vans, wild, flashy earrings, punk glasses and haircuts were a common sight in the halls. Surf wear remained a steady, yet popular trend. Wave Riding Vehicles, OP, and Town and Country shirts, pants, and decals were worn by many Mariners. Glasses on a "leash" were hung around necks, while others were worn on heads. Lockers were plastered with pictures of surfers, models, favorite pastimes, and groups such as The Police, Prince, Duran Duran, David Bowie, and Micheal Jackson.

“Fast Times at Ferguson High” Surface During Spirit Week

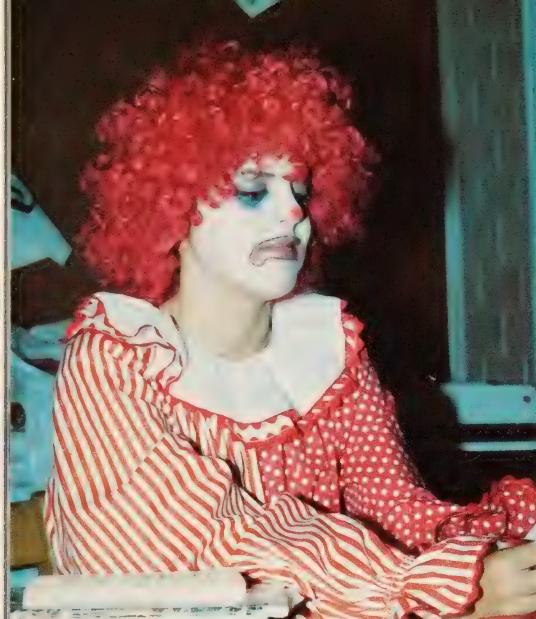

New days, new outfits and new people gave Spirit Week a fresh look this year. On Tacky Day, Mariners wore ragged and non-matching clothes. Tourist Day found students carrying cameras and binoculars while dressed in “island” attire. On Hippie Day, bandanas, wild print shirts, bell-bottoms and peace signs were common sights. The most celebrated days, Halloween Costume

Day and Blue and White Day, ended the week with Mariners, including faculty members, dressing up as clowns, witches, mice and vampires on Thursday and donning all their blue and white clothes on Friday. A frenzied pep rally behind the gym ended the school week and an unfortunate loss to Hampton on Saturday completed activities for Spirit Week, 1983.

The Flashdance fashion spread throughout Ferguson this year. The cut-off sweatshirts and t-shirts proved to be the Mariners' style. Pink and black, turquoise, red, and many other New Wave colors brightened the dim hallways. Mariners also wore the sleek and sophisticated dressy look of slim and bow ties, pumps and dresses. Ocean Pacific, Wave Riding Vehicles, Pipeline and Lightening Bolt were among the many different brands of surfwear worn this year. Popular footwear included vans, pumps, ked tennies, and Converse high-tops.

Ferguson Filled With “Ordinary People”

Walk ... personality, talk ... personality, style ... personality, smile ... personality, ain't we got charm. Ferguson High was filled with many personalities. Mariners' charm showed through, before, during and after school. These personalities brought the Mariners closer together. Each smile, each goofy expression, and each tear shed made the 1983-1984 school year one to remember.

"Best Friends" were easy to find

This year the Mariners found out friends were not hard to come by. Friends were seen eating lunch, walking, gossiping, and fooling around together. The latest news on who's dating whom and where the upcoming party is going to be seemed to be the question heard among the Mariners. Many Mariners grouped in the halls before and after school hours, laying out spreads for the yearbook, making up tests, getting help because of troublesome classes and catching up on last night's homework.

"The Man Who Came to Dinner" Delights Students

"The Man Who Came To Dinner" was the first play put on by the Drama Department this year. Under the supervision of Ms. Pat Quinn, the cast members presented the story of a guest who, after coming to the Stanley's home for dinner and slipping on their front porch steps, remained there while recuperating from a broken hip. The uninvited long-term guest, played by Dennis Hinnant, disrupted the family's lifestyle while staying with them.

As the Stanley family finally got rid of the fully recuperated guest, he slipped, leaving them with more disruption in the future.

John (Henry Tyson), Sandy (Andi Miller), Richard Stanley (Doug Satchell), Burt Jefferson (Roby Raton), Maggie Cutler (Mary Bradley), Mr. Stanley (Doug Shamble) and Mrs. Stanley (Roxanne Whitmore) are amused as Doctor Bradley (Billy Warren) places Mr. Whiteside (Dennis Hinnant) into his wheelchair.

Mariners Share Free Time "Between Friends"

"So, where are all of the parties this weekend?" Every Thursday and Friday this question was brought up many times throughout the school. By the time Friday rolled around, Mariners were ready to hit the party scene. The most popular places to party were at friends' houses, Robert Cuffe's van, hotel rooms, Warwick dances, and The White Fox. Free time, spent socializing and partying, brought Ferguson students together.

▲Chris Quesenberry, Lisa Edwards, Sharon Roesen, Randy Conner, Marty McIntire, Craig Davis, Tom Bundick, Kim Powell, and Nan Carney party it up on a Saturday night.

Foreigners Find "Trading Places" Gratifying

Ferguson was lucky enough to have several foreign students enrolled this year. Along with Patrick Boyen, the AFS exchange student from Belgium, there were several other foreign students. Seniors Annica Nielsson and Carina Johanssen were from Sweden. Junior Ari Lechtenen was from Finland, while Senior Chris Bergsjerdet was from Norway. Also attending Ferguson this year was Manuela Seco from Costa Rica. These students added life to the school year and gave Mariners a chance to learn about different cultures.

►Michaune Scott and Shaun Moses laugh as they begin to walk under the ring.

Preparing the ring and other decorations was a big task for the Ring Dance Committee who began preparing for the dance in October. Juniors sold magazines to help raise money for the D.J. from KS 96 and decorations to match their theme "Up Where We Belong." Rings were ordered from Josten's Ring Co. and were tried on Friday before the dance. Juniors were up early the day of the dance to finish putting up decorations.

Kerstin Porter announced each couple coming through the ring as they exchanged rings and kisses. Admiring each other's rings, the Juniors continued to dance to the music provided by KS 96.

Slipping Seniors Anticipate "Breaking Away"

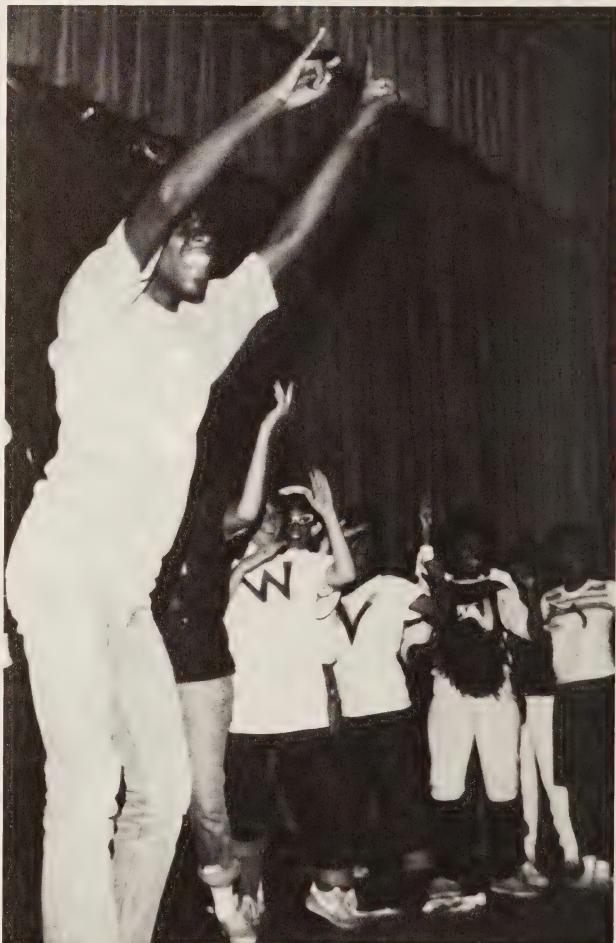

"SENIOR: Distinguished from a Junior; of higher rank or position, especially after long service." Every Mariner looked forward to his Senior year and the privileges that went along with it. Being a Senior meant being able to go off campus for lunch and eat in the Senior cafeteria. Despite these privileges, most Seniors came down with a condition after first semester known as

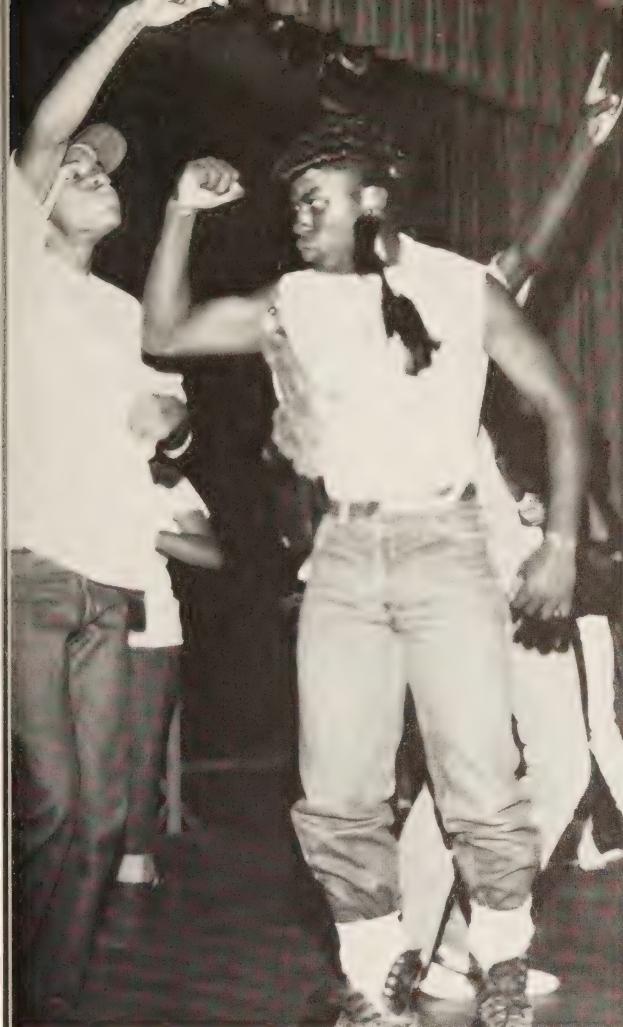

"Senioritis." "Senioritis" was usually caused by overexertion during exam time, too many assignments due, and thoughts of the warm weather and sunny beaches. Symptoms included endless gazing out of classroom windows, dozing off during lectures, inability to complete assignments, and, most of all, terminal procrastination. There was only one sure-fire cure for this condition . . . GRADUATION!!!

Varsity Roars Like "Blue Thunder"

This year's Varsity Football Team had its first winning season in years. Under the direction of head coach Ted Bacote, the Mariners finished with a record of 7 wins, 2 losses, and 1 forfeit. An optimistic team opened the season against Denbigh, shutting them out 16-0, but later forfeiting due to having an ineligible player on the team. The triumph of the season occurred with the win over Bethel, a first in Mariner history. Athletes of the week, running back Dwayne Solomon and defensive linebacker Delano Tyler, contributed greatly to the Mariners' victorious season.

J. V. Proves To Be "Semi- Tough"

The 1983 football season proved to be a fairly good one for the J.V. team. They finished with a record of 3 wins, 3 losses, and 3 ties. Coach Ted Bacote remarked, "We did fair; we had a lot of young players though. It's expected that next year's team will do well, because, for the first time, we will have returning J.V. players."

Varsity Basketball team makes "All The Right Moves"

The Ferguson Varsity Basketball team had a victorious year finishing first in the district. The Mariner team was the only one to go undefeated. Co-captains Peanut Richardson and Lonnie Miller led their team with experience and dedication to a regular season 20-0 record. Other top players were Lennon Mings, Chris Warren, Chris Green, Bulldog Farrar, and Mark Robinson. The Mariners participated in the Fort Eustis Christmas tournament and won top honors in their division. The team moved on to place in both District and Regional tournaments.

J.V. Team Plays "Against All Odds"

The J.V. Basketball team had an unexpected season this year. Led By Coach Charlie Peoples, the young Mariners fell 8-8 for the season. Although they worked hard, their lack of experience often worked against them. They kept spirit high and proved to have good sportsmanship. The team worked well together and looked forward to a better next year.

Lady Mariners Were Anything But "Reckless"

The Lady Mariners finished fourth in the district this year. Under the supervision of Coach Watkins, co-captains Shann Hart, Tracey Hilliard and Juanita Walker worked to pull off a winning season. Other top players were Sandra Artis, Mandy

Martin, and Mantelle Bradley. These talented players also placed second in the Fort Eustis Christmas tournament, beaten only by Bethel. Because of their triumphs, the Lady Mariners moved on to District tournaments.

Mariners are "Running Brave"

1983 proved to be a winning season for the Boy's Cross Country team. They finished the year with a record of 6 wins and only 2 losses. Chris Quesenberry placed 7th in Districts. Coach Jim Ryan said, "This team worked closer than in other years, helping each other. The record stands for itself. I think we did real well." Players not pictured were Donald Patrick, Steve Davis, Mike Webster, Mark White, and Mike Pitts. The girls' team, however, did not do as well. Their record was 0-4, due to a young, inexperienced team. According to Coach Scott, there was a low interest level which led to a poor season. He hopes to have a better turnout next year.

Field Hockey players exhibit their "Slap-Shot" skills

The 1983 Varsity Field Hockey team showed spirit and determination throughout the season despite a 2-6 record. Coach Judy Allen commented on the girls' improvement and ability to work well together. Co-captains Harriet Johnson and

Shann Hart exercised their leadership skills by trying to unify the team. According to Coach Allen, "We are expecting a good, solid Varsity team next year, with many returning experienced players."

Wrestlers proved to be "Tough Enough"

The wrestling team was faced with many problems in the 1983-84 season. Due to a lack of Varsity Team members in certain weight classes, the Mariners had to forfeit matches which led to the loss of at least 18 points at each meet. The inexperience of the young team members also caused a loss of points. The Mariners kept spirit high, however, and the team earned the award for good sportsmanship this year. Despite the tough season, three wrestlers, Chris Quesenberry, Carlos Taliaferro, and Lacy Morris, placed in the district meet.

The 1983-84 J.V. and Varsity squads worked hard to promote school spirit. After attending camp at University of Richmond, where they earned a spirit stick and several ribbons, the girls were ready to begin the school year. Cheering for Football and Basketball games, the cheerleaders strived not only to boost the teams' morale but to lead them to many victories. To raise money, they sold calendars, and spirit shakers. Varsity Captains Nan Carney and Felicia Holman agreed, "It was hard work, but it was worth it." J.V. Captains were Jodi Merendino and Josetta Royal.

Tennis and Golf Players Take "The Challenge"

The 1983 girls' tennis team's hard work and support for each other paid off with an overall 6-2 record. Becky Clements went undefeated the entire season and won the district championship in singles. Kim Crain and Becky took 2nd in districts for doubles.

According to Coach Hott, the Golf team placed 7th in district this year, and finished close to where they expected. Exceptional player, Barry Head, qualified for state, finishing 7th. Coach Hott hoped to have some returning players next year.

Baseball team swings into 1984 with "Sudden Impact"

Mitch McDougal, the Ferguson baseball coach, looked for another winning season in 1984. He expected better hitting and a little more speed out of the returning players. Senior team members were David Blowe, Craig Davis, Gary Malarkey, Billy "the ice man" Dailey, Kenny Smith and Jeff "li'l Mitch" Trull. Commenting on the entire senior team, Coach McDougal said, "Their fine leadership helped keep the team's motivation strong and their morale high." Together with some promising newcomers, the 1984 season appeared bright for the Mariner team.

Student Leaders Strike the School with "Sudden Impact"

In order to promote school spirit and cooperation between the students and the faculty, the SCA held a very eventful year. Led by President Sandy Heezen and Sponsor Joanne Fivel, the SCA was in charge of many school projects. Being responsible for all of the Homecoming festivities, the group had to start working during the summer in order to prepare for the bonfire, parade and dance. After Homecoming, the SCA began work on Spirit week and fund-raising. Two separate penny drives were held in order to raise money for both the Daily Press Christmas Fund and the Toys for Tots campaign. The SCA was also responsible for holding city-wide SCA meetings. Surveys were sent out during the year to try to improve communication with the student body. Other officers Sean Hamilton (Vice President), Renardo Bell (Secretary), Lynn Oakley (Treasurer), Laura Seltzer (Reporter), and Ratonya Hughes (Parliamentarian) met with the rest of the SCA Congress in bi-monthly meetings to plan upcoming events.

The SAC, consisting of fifteen members chosen by Dr. Kilpatrick, met monthly to discuss problems concerning the school body. Issues ranged from changing the bell schedule and extending the lunch period to improving communication between the students and the faculty. The SAC was a valuable liaison between the administration and the student body.

▲Sheri Richman congratulates new member Leslie Harlow after her induction to the National Honor Society.

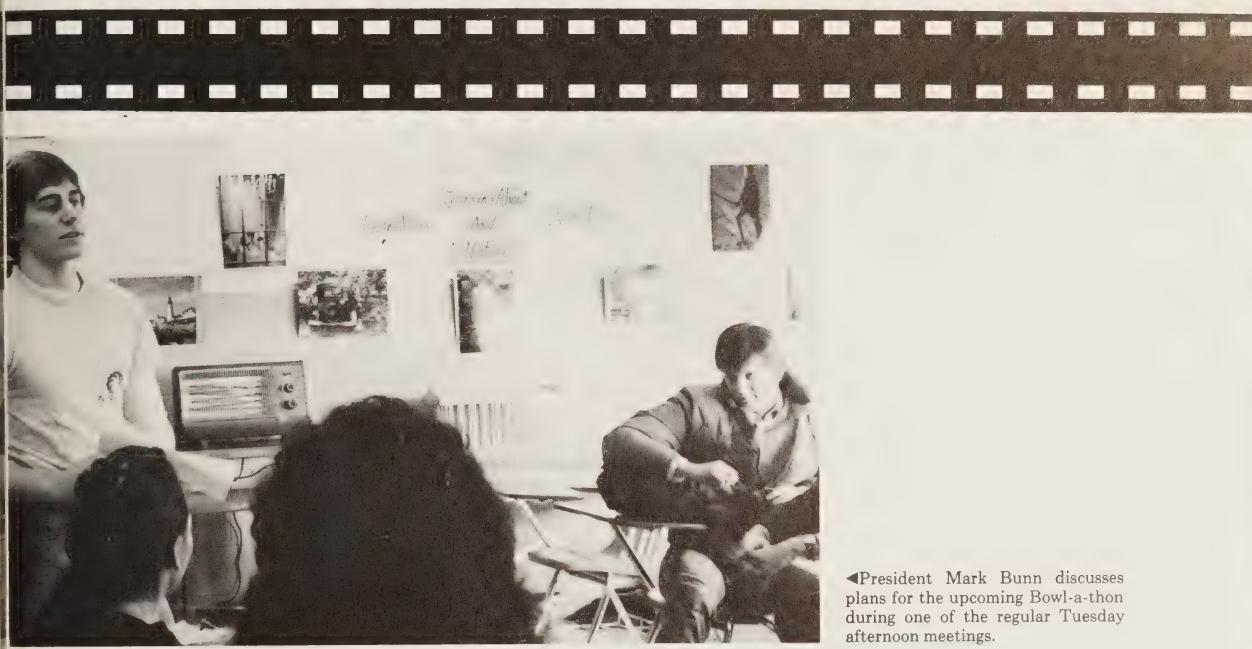

►NHS members Rose Porter and Sandy Heezen discuss club activities after the fall inductions.

The T. Ryland Sandford Chapter of the National Honor Society consisted of twenty-one members selected by a panel of teachers on the basis of scholarship, leadership, service, and character. All members were required to maintain at least a 3.0 grade point average, and receive no lower than a C in any class during a single marking period. They were also expected to uphold the ideals of high moral character. Periodic checks with club sponsors assured the member's continued participation in school activities.

The club held monthly meetings to discuss upcoming activities, hear guest speakers, and prepare for inductions. To raise money, they sponsored a "candygram" sale for Thanksgiving and held a bowl-a-thon in March. President Mark Bunn, along with sponsors Betty Sharpe and Ora Brinkley, headed up the group. Other officers were: Ginger Everett, Vice President; Anne Millar, Secretary; and Chris Warren, Treasurer.

Service makes clubs "Two of a Kind"

The Key Club sponsored by Mr. Mitch McDougal and president Sean Hamilton had a year of community involvement. They tutored students in reading and math at the YMCA, pedaled for pediatrics, rang bells for the Salvation Army and helped finance a class ring for an exchange student. They held meetings after school every Monday except for the first week in the month. These meetings sometimes consisted of lectures presented by speakers such as Mr. Nolan from the Newport News Police Department, who talked about drug abuse. Other officers were Christopher Hamilton, Vice-President; Mark Bunn, Chaplain; and Victor Raposo, Secretary-Treasurer.

The Keyettes also had a very active year. They raised money by selling cups, posters, and Christmas items and donated most of it to worthwhile community service groups. They also donated hours of time working with the Santa House, the Salvation Army, and the SPCA. Projects included riding for Pedal for Pediatrics, helping local elementary schools, volunteering time to the SIDS Campaign, and donating money to Riverside Hospital's Books for Babies program. New this year was a trial "pledge" period for new members to prove their eligibility for being a Keyette and a stricter point system. Officers included President Sheri Richman, Vice-President Faythe Sermons, Recording Secretary Teresa Young, Corresponding Secretary Theresa Rosser, Treasurer Melissa Robinson, Reporter Ginger Everett, and Parliamentarian Sandy Heezen.

The Ferguson Chapter of AFS led a very active and productive year. Led by Co-Presidents Lisa Edwards and Sandy Heezen, a group of closely-knit officers including Vice President Chris Quesenberry, Secretary Alexis Canavos, Treasurer Nan Carney, Reporter Sharon Roesen, and Sponsor Mrs. Halberg, AFS members enjoyed many fun-filled events, such as International Weekend. In November, foreign exchange students from all over the Peninsula came to stay with Ferguson members. Weekend activities included a Progressive Dinner, a trip to Waterside, a play, a huge football game, and a party at Lisa's house. In January, Ferguson members were invited to "Meet Patrick Night" at the Pleninger's house. This gave members and their parents a chance to get to know Ferguson's

Belgian exchange student, Patrick Boyen. In April, members went on Short Term Exchange for five days. Later in the year, they participated in such fund-raisers as garage sales and car washes to raise money for next year.

The Foreign Language Club led by sponsor Kaye Brown and President Faith Sermons began a busy year by preparing and entering their international theme float in the Homecoming Parade. They continued with regular meetings which often featured guest speakers. In the spring the Foreign Language banquet was held which allowed students to sample various different foreign dishes. Other officers were Dora Banks, Vice-President; Popi Ikonomou, Secretary; Lisa Coleman, Parliamentarian; Donald Moses, Treasurer; Horace Sermons, Historian.

Model UN and Forensics turn students “Every which way But Loose”

Members of the Model UN Club spent long hours preparing for competition at Old Dominion University and at the Nat'l Invitational Model United Nations Conference at Georgetown University. Most of the delegates were present or past members of the International Relations/US Soviet Relations class taught by Ms. Marika Anthony. Students thoroughly researched the foreign policy of their assigned countries and then represented it in mock sessions of the UN. Being a delegate demanded assertiveness, confidence, and a complete knowledge of the structure of the United Nations as well as the situations discussed. Officers were President Patrick

Boyen, Vice-President Jenny Decker, Secretary Tina Webster, and Treasurer Ian Coogan.

The Forensics Club had three members placing in district competition this year: Renardo Bell, Michelle Braguglia, and Sheri Richman. Several other members competed against other area high-schoolers in one of the five categories: extemporaneous speaking, original oratory, prose, poetry or spelling. To prepare for the February meet at Hampton High School, the Club met after school twice a month to practice public speaking and receive coaching from their sponsor, Ms. Joyce Ballard. This year's president was Sheri Richman.

Ferguson's newspaper, the Windjammer, proved to be a vital link between the students and the faculty. Editor Sandy Clark and sponsor Agnes Brabrand led the rest of the staff, each of whom made significant contributions to the production of the paper. The Windjammer, which came out quarterly, featured various articles, updates on controversial issues, an advice column, and a continuing comic strip. The staff's main goal was to inform and entertain Mariners.

Producing the 1984 yearbook turned out to be a real task for the Annual Staff this year. Due to a shortage of members, the staff put in many after-school and evening hours finishing up layouts. Each Mariner Staff member was responsible for selling ads, laying out spreads, and writing copy and captions. Staff members included Sandy Heezen and Lisa Edwards, Cindy Cohen, Lori Conner, Kristi Grizzard, Barbara Monk, Audrey Robinson, and Paula Thomas.

F.H.S. Drama Club Students are "Star- struck"

The Drama Club, with approximately 100 members, is one of the largest clubs at Ferguson. Each year students put on three plays including a spring musical and a play put on only by students enrolled in drama classes. The Drama Club officers this year were Herbie Freeze, president and Ginger Everett, treasurer. The major goal of the club was to have fun while learning about educational theatre. The Drama Club raised over $1,800 by selling fruit.

The Music Depart- ment Loves "Ameri- can Pop"

The Ferguson Singers had many goals over this past year. They strived to provide high quality entertainment for local clubs and social groups, promote better school spirit, and encourage positive public relations. Led by President Theresa Rosser and sponsor Bonnie Johnson, the Ferguson Singers performed at many assemblies, such as the Homecoming Assembly, the Drama assembly, and all of the home basketball games. They also went Christmas caroling over the holidays, participated in Regional and State auditions, and presented their annual Christmas and Spring concerts for Mariners and their families. In addition, a choral ensemble, the Mariner Men, consisting of seventeen members, was formed.

Squads flash Spirit With "Flash- dance"

The Flag Corps, created from the Drill team of last year, brought a new kind of entertainment to Mariner fans. By performing dance routines with colorful flags, the group added both energy and excitement to the band's performances. To prepare for football games, parades, and assemblies, the Flag Corps practiced long hours before and after school with the band. The practice paid off though, and culminated in a talented new dance group.

The Majorettes also worked with the band, performing during half-time of the football games. The girls demonstrated their talent and skill in parades as well. Said Sandi Berry, "It was nerve-racking at times but I think the girls had a lot of fun and are looking forward to next year."

The Science Club, sponsored by Mrs. Sharpe and led by Robert Upshaw, tried to encourage students to get more involved in the science fields and in their community. Members all worked hard on their science projects in order to participate in the 1983-84 Science Fair. The Club also worked hard in order to win the Millar Award — an award given to the most outstanding science club in the state. Other officers were Vice-President, Teresa Williamson; Treasurer, Neil Goodman; Project

Committee Chairman, Lisa Edwards.

The Math Club, sponsored by Mrs. Askew, was an organization helping students better understand math. Members came in the morning before school started and offered tutoring to anyone needing extra help on their homework or on the day's assignments. President Rose Porter led the Math Club meetings. Other officers were Sheri Richman, Vice-President; Melissa Robinson, Secretary; Melissa Coleman, Committee Chairman.

AIASA Club Leaves "Yester- day Behind"

The AIASA Club, one of Ferguson's finest, was a national organization for all students enrolled in any industrial arts class. Led by David Spain and sponsored by Mr. Kinnison, the club's main goal was to get more students to enroll in its classes. Their activities consisted of regular meetings and selling of candy and ticket books. Other officers were Vice-President, Jason Spielberger; Reporter, Donald Moore; Historian, David Lockwood; Sergeant At Arms, Tom Waltz; Parliamentarian, Neil Goodman.

The VICA Club provided its members opportunities to assist in helping themselves and their community. They held regular meetings which sometimes had guest speakers and they sold various items during the year.

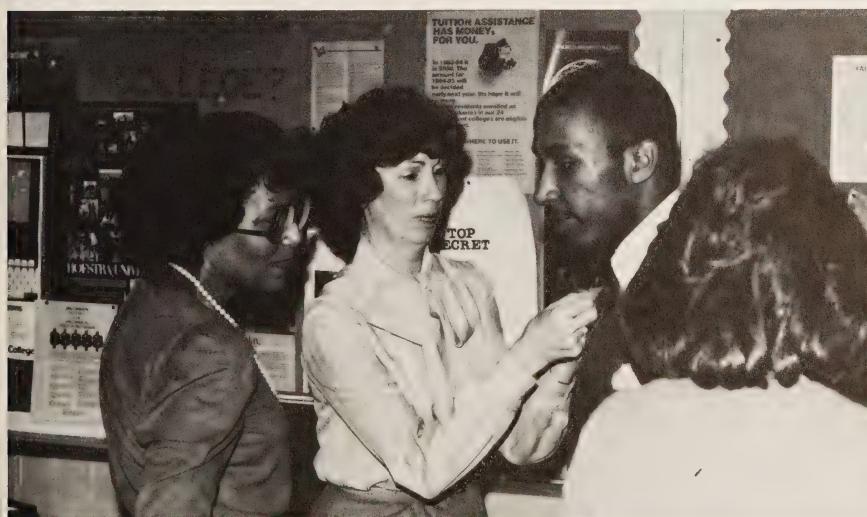

The FBLA Club, led by president

Dora Banks and sponsored by Mrs. Custer, prepared students to become more skilled in typing, accounting and other business skills. They also tried to encourage students to join more business courses. They sponsored dances and held banquets throughout the year. Other officers were Vice-President, Yvonne Burns; Treasurer, Jennifer Liverman; Chaplain, Nan Thrift; and Secretary, Tammy Cook.

SENIORS

Seniors worked hard this year to prepare for their graduation activities. Led by President, Shann Hart, and Sponsor, Mr. Pete Farmer, they busied themselves with fitting caps and gowns, taking graduation orders and finalizing plans for the commencement exercises.

Early in the year, Seniors chose "Today we walk together, tomorrow we walk alone" for the class motto, blue and white for the class colors, the White Rose for the class flower and "Is This The End" for the class song.

All through the year, Shann, along with class officers Ron Johnston, Vice-President; Kim Gore, Treasurer; Nan Carney, Secretary; and Michele Moskowitz, Reporter-Historian; spent a great deal of time preparing for the Prom and for the Senior banquet, two events which every senior looked forward to.

1984 LAST WILL

I, Deborah Alexander, do hereby leave Jackie Walker all my good grades; Elain all my teachers and hope that they will graduate on time.

I, Rodney Alston, do hereby leave all my dogging to the Funkadelics. Can you relate to that George?

I, Sandra Artis, hereby leave Lennon Mings all of my love and to Paula Thomas a happy life with Terry Fail.

I, Carla Atkins, hereby leave Sarah Atkins my grey skirt which she has thoroughly enjoyed, as well as my Algebra ability.

I, Carla Bailey, do hereby leave Derek Bailey my lunch forms and all my lunch tickets; Wanda Staton, all my teachers and my government notebook and textbook.

I, Carla Bailey, do hereby leave Derek Bailey my lunch forms and all my lunch tickets; Wanda Station, all my teachers and my government notebook and textbook.

I, Natalie Bailey, do hereby leave knowledge, hard work to all the underclassmen who have not yet earned good grades.

I, Dora Banks, do hereby leave Mrs. Custer a bottle of Tylenol for all her FBLA headaches, and lots of love and kisses to all my teachers.

Seniors feel like "Bustin' Loose!"

◀Mary McIntire prepares to "Tackle" the perilous slopes ahead of him.

JUNIORS

The Junior class seemed to be one of the most spirited classes at Ferguson this year. They started the year off by winning the spirit hall competition during spirit week. Class officers were Kerstin Porter, President; Jenny Decker, Vice President; Lynn Harlow, Secretary; Andi Miller, Treasurer; Tina Webster, Reporter-Historian. The class officers worked hard on improving class spirit. The class sponsor, Miss Pierce, arranged a magazine sale to help the Juniors raise money for Ring Dance and their Senior Prom.

FRESHMEN

The Class of '87 started the year out right by winning the Homecoming Float Contest. Class officers were Debbie White, Secretary; Shannon Moore, President; and Whitney Espich, Historian. Led by Sponsor Gail Williams, the Freshman Class learned the ropes during their first year at Ferguson. They made plans for next year, and also planned many fund raisers.

"All the Presi- dent's Men" strive to make Ferguson finer

After hearing the report of the National Committee on Excellence in Education, the administration began work to improve the quality of Ferguson's academic program. Stricter attendance policies, fewer assemblies, and a new bell schedule maximized class time for students. The administration also worked on improving the quality of Ferguson's academics by holding regular faculty meetings to inform teachers of new school policies. Administrative responsibility was divided between Principal John Kilpatrick and the three Assistant Principals, Mr. Cropper, Mr. Cottingham, and Mrs. Lamberton. Mr. Cropper was in charge of activities, Mr. Cottingham, attendance, and Ms. Lamberton, academics. Disciplinary problems were handled by each of the four Principals.

Sharpening Skills Is No "Vacation" for English Department

One of the English Department's major goals this year was to improve students' SAT scores. To meet this goal, after-school workshops were held for both students and teachers. Also, English teachers were asked to devote at least one day a week towards SAT preparation. This, along with expanded summer reading requirements for all classes, helped to raise the students' performance on the standardized tests. By attending workshops, members of the English Department were also able to perfect their teaching skills.

The Foreign Language Department's goal this year was not only to help the students speak more fluently in other languages, but also to increase the students' interests in different countries and their cultures. Courses offered included French, German, Spanish, and Latin.

In addition to required courses this year, the Social Studies Department offered International Relations, U.S. and Soviet Relations, Psychology and World History Block. The Social Studies Department's goals consisted of increasing the level of written communication skills, helping students develop an inquiring mind, and creating an informed citizenry. Something new in the department was that the Social Studies teachers enrolled in a special class at Christopher Newport College first semester to learn new strategies of individualized instruction.

This year, the Government classes took field trips to Richmond to observe the General Assembly in action, and to Washington, D.C. to observe Congress and the Supreme Court in action. The Model U.N. took field trips in Old Dominion University, and to the North American Invitational, which was held at Georgetown.

In the Fall, the Social Studies Department presented a political debate between Councilman William Haskins and State Senator Bobby Scott. In the Spring the department sponsored an assembly featuring the councilmatic candidates.

The Science teachers worked to better the department and to develop a closer relationship with the students. They conducted a random survey to determine how the students felt about Earth Science classes. The survey also included students' attitudes and interests on the topic of education in general. Science teachers also assisted students with their science projects, and provided them with a variety of visual aids. The audio visual presentations were cataloged, so that students would have easier access to them. CRT Tests were given to all science students this year, unlike past years, where they were administered only in some classes. Like every year, the Science Department worked to help students so they would have a solid background in science fields. The annual Science Fair gave Mariners a chance to display their scientific knowledge and expertise.

▲Mrs. Evans teaches the basic skills of factoring in an Algebra II class.

This year the Math Department's goals were to boost the level of students' performance two to three grade levels in competitive skills, and to improve SAT scores. This year the department offered courses ranging from Basic Math up to Calculus, including the newest course offered, Computer Programming. Two Math contests were offered to get students to make use of their math skills. A half hour competitive test, held each month, was sponsored by the Virginia Math League. The American Math

Exam was also a competitive testing program given to students.

All math classes were required to do some type of daily activity so that the teacher could check students' understanding of the lessons and check to see if students had completed their homework.

To add to the excellence of the department, all Math teachers made it a point to have a good attendance record, and to be available to help students before school.

Business, ICT and DE students thought classes were no risky business. Ferguson's Business program enriched the students' skills by teaching them how to type, write shorthand, record keep, file and how to get a good job in the community.

Throughout the year the business classes sold cannisters of candy and cookies to help raise money. Guest speakers came to speak on job interviews and requirements to get a clerical job.

Creative Students Are left "Star Struck"

Pat Quinn, the Drama teacher who sponsored the Drama Club, set goals for her classes this year. She hoped to teach students an appreciation for the arts, a sense of responsibility and self-discipline, and the dynamics of working well with other students. This year, the students involved in Drama classes exclusively were able to try out for and put on a play, "Up The Down Staircase."

With Mr. Herbert Melvin's assistance, the art students learned to sharpen their artistic talents, and work with their original ideas and styles. Each individual strived to work to the best of his ability, and create pieces of art.

NJROTC and PE Students Are Put to "The Challenge"

The Physical Education classes were made up of two electives: Physical Fitness and Team Sports. The Physical Fitness course emphasized development of strength through weight training and certain aerobics. The Team Sports helped students learn to work as a team. In both courses, more emphasis was placed on weight training and running.

The Health classes concentrated on mental health, safety and first aid, consumer education, and sex education.

This year, one big change in the Drivers' Education classes was the requirement to "buckle up." Last summer the Physical Education Depart ment had seat belts installed in the students' desks to help students get into the habit of buckling up when they got into a car.

This year the NJROTC, under the guidance of Lieutenant John Gregor and Master Chief Charles Groves, worked hard to better themselves and Ferguson High School through knowledge. They attended military drill camps at Hampton Institute, University of Virginia, and Little Creek. They also worked to improve peace, discipline, and courtesy. The NJROTC was led by Company Commander Carlos Taliadoro, and Chief Petty Officers Michelle Evans, Sandra Artis, and Denise Dorsey.

Pennie Brown, Charles Kinnison, and Paul Lambine strived to teach the Industrial Arts students job skills, technical knowledge, problem solving skills, and how to work in a technical society. Teachers provided career, consumer, and occupational information. This year a new course was offered: Computer Electronics. This course was geared for students who were interested in learning and working with the electronical aspects of computers.

The Home Economics Department's goal was to equip students with skills in domestic areas which would help them socially and economically. Courses offered included Clothing and Food Management, Home Ec. I, and Home Ec. II.

Library and Clinic provide the "Right Stuff" for students.

The library provided a good place for students to catch up on homework; study for tests and collect information for research papers. Library Science offered students a chance to learn about the library, earn a credit, and help the librarians keep the library in order.

Bertha Fannin, the school nurse, was called upon to help the sick. Because of the rigidly enforced vaccination program, students were not permitted to attend school this year unless vaccination records were up-to-date. Mrs. Fannin had the responsibilities of keeping records of students who had been properly vaccinated.

This year, the Guidance Department worked to serve the student body in any way that was possible. Counselors worked with Freshmen to plan their programs of study for the remainder of their high school years. Counselors strived to help the newcomers adjust to high school. By administering interest inventories and aptitude tests, the Counselors were able to better place students in classes. Seniors were urged to check with Guidance for college information and summer programs. Letters were sent to parents from the Guidance Department to inform them of changes or special happenings in the school. The Guidance Department also supervised the Career room, which was open to students at most hours of the day for career information.

Mariners Use Their "Brain-waves"

As a result of all of the department members working together, the 1983-84 school year was a success. Departments and their heads included: English, Ms. Raines; Math, Ms. Askew; Social Studies, Ms. Anthony; Science, Ms. Sharpe; Business, Ms. J. Brown; Physical Fitness, Coach Walters; Foreign Language, Ms. K. Brown.

Teachers helped students both before and after school. During class, teachers used films, video tapes, records, and books to help students learn and understand their lessons. Vocabulary tests, Competency tests, daily assignments, and requirements for graduation kept students on their toes.

Thanks to the administration and the teaching staff, students learned to be the best they could be.
